

Rag Loop'er. Used in splicing rags for rag-carpet. It loops them together without sewing. Both ends are impaled on the perforated knife and the end of the last attached piece rove through the hole in the knife and pulled taut. The knife is raised and as its lower end is a pair of prongs it allows the knotted strip to slip off. See Fig. 2083.

Fig. 2083.

Rag Looper.