

WELD. The dried stalks, leaves, and flowers of an annual herbaceous plant, called Reseda luteola. They are used by the dyers as affording a brilliant and durable yellow color.