

Gingham, n. [Fr. guingan.] (Manuf.) A cotton fabric, generally bearing a colored check pattern, which is not produced by dyeing or stamping the manufactured material, but by interweaving colored threads. The various kinds of G. now manufactured are known by different names in commerce; and umbrella G. is woven with threads all of the same color.